

Science Museum
South Kensington, London, SW7 2DD

Run an event with a difference! The Science Museum has a range of inspiring spaces that are available for hire, some of which are detailed below.

The Wellcome Wing

The world's leading centre for the presentation of contemporary science and technology, the Wellcome Wing explores the latest ideas and issues in a series of thought-provoking interactive displays.

Making the Modern World

These are the icons which formed modern society, including the 'Apollo 10' command module, scorched and battered from its 1969 moon mission and the world's most famous steam engine, Stephenson's 'Rocket'.

Energy Hall

Housing the Power Gallery, which charts Britain's engineering achievements since the Industrial Revolution, the Energy Hall has a unique atmosphere in which guests can enjoy a pre-dinner drink or dinner.

Flight Gallery

Dine under Amy Johnson's 'Gipsy Moth', or Alcock and Brown's 'Vicker's Vimy' - the first aeroplane to cross the Atlantic – and other icons of aviation history.

There are many other spaces which can also be used and a visit to the museum to view all the options is highly recommended.
